President's Welcome

BY J. J. "JACK" BYRNE

The story of the Louisville Chapter dates back to 1945, July 11, at 4:30 p.m. in the home of Fritz Drybrough. Jerry D. Beeler, now immediate past president of the International, was there and presided over a meeting of would-be Barbershoppers. Jerry explained the aims, activities, charitable work and phenomenal growth of the organization since it was founded at Tulsa, Oklahoma, on April 11, 1938 by Owen C. Cash, who claims the title of the "World's Greatest Baritone".

When the meeting ended, there was a newly-born organization known as the Louisville Chapter, Kentucky No. 1, S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A., Inc., with a roster of 33 paid up members. Since that memorable evening, the Louisville Chapter has grown to be one of the largest chapters of the Society with a paid up membership of 294 full-fledged Barbershoppers. At the present time there are about 650 chapters scattered about the U.S.A. and Canada with a total roster of some 60,000 members.

Once a year, show time comes around for the Louisville Chapter and the entire membership goes into high gear: The Program Sales Committee for the selling of ads for the souvenir program; the Program Printing Committee; the Show Production and Staging Committees; the Costuming Committee; the Music Committee, headed by the chorus director, pounding away on show numbers week after week until every word and note is perfect; the Property Committee for the painting of props and scenery for the show; the House Committee to tie all loose ends together; the Ticket Sales Committee; the Advertising Committee which handles all the publicity for T-V shows, radio, newspaper, bill posters and heralds placed under every plate at all luncheon club meetings; the Host Committee, meeting all out-of-town quartets to show them a taste of real southern hospitality; the Hotel Arrangements Committee which looks after all visiting Barbershoppers. Then, there's "Red" our official photographer who keeps us in the news.

All these committees, manned by practically the entire membership of the Chapter, have been working long and diligently to bring you the Sixth Annual Fall Musical Show, which you are about to see and to which I bid you a most hearty welcome.

Then after the show, about midnight, the After-Glow Committee goes into high gear with a repeat of quartet singing on the roof of the Seelbach Hotel. Sunday morning at ten, there's the Morning-Glow with more quartet singing — and this goes on and on until the last quartet has boarded its train or plane.

Do you wonder I say that we have the grandest and most wonderful Chapter in the Society with the swellest bunch of guys that ever lived?

Speaking for the Officers and Directors of the Louisville Chapter, I want to thank the entire membership for, first, their fine harmony in song, secondly, their harmony in co-operation, and thirdly, their harmony in organization — but most of all, for their brotherhood and sound faith in each other.

Casting and costuming require technique and aplomb. Leon Haydon, (left) and Robert Gray collaborated to achieve the utmost in selecting costumes authentically depicting the fashions of the era. Casting, usually a problem in amateur theatricals, was so diplomatically co-ordinated that plaudits from the entire membership have been profuse and sincere.

Chapter Presidents

Succession of Talented Leaders Keeps Louisville in Limelight

F. W. "Fritzie" Drybrough, whom all Louisville chapter members revere, beams with justifiable pride when he thinks of the men who followed him as presidents of the chapter which he started. Fritzie served two years and was succeeded by Ed Mall who also was re-elected to office for a second term.

Without good management, no organization can ever expect to exist — let alone rise to heights never before attained. The fact that the Louisville Chapter achieved such distinction is a tribute to Fritz's and Ed's management.

When 1950 election time rolled around, it seemed we were dangerously near to having exhausted our potential managerial magnates. It was then that the nominating committee submitted the name of Robert G. "Bob" Griffin. Bob accepted but with the sinking feeling that the shoes he was about to don were the size of the proverbial seven league boots. He nevertheless, proceeded to fill their capaciousness. During Bob's regime we sailed right along just as ship-shape as ever until January 29, 1951 when the bombshell exploded. Business pressure necessitated Bob's tendering his resignation. Regretfully, the board of directors accepted, fully realizing that Bob had considered and weighed the matter carefully before making such a momentous decision.

Once again, luck was on our side. Edward J. "Jacket" Hackett had served as Bob's 1st Vice President and was next in line to serve out President Griffin's unexpired term. Ed was somewhat reluctant. Fortunately, his loyalty surged to the top and he yielded to the challenge. Ouring his term of office, much of the ground work and planning for this, our sixth annual show, was accomplished. So triumphantly did President Hackett govern us, he was first considered for nominee to succeed himself in the following April Elections. For many reasons Ed felt compelled to decline.

To whom could the nominating committee now turn. The most likely and logical candidate was J. J. "Jack" Byrne but Jack had stated emphatically that he had no aspirations toward the presidency. Our first two presidents, Ed Mall and Fritzie went to work. They not only prevailed upon Jack to reconsider, but they cajoled, bewitched and finally persuaded him to accept the nomination. The voting was merely a formality. Jack was unanimously the choice to continue a line of exceptionally creditable presidents. As president, he automatically assumed management of our Annual Fall Show. His many years as a member of the esteemed Kentucky Troubadours stood him in good stead. He knows Barbershopping as comparatively few others know it, and his theatrical experience was invaluable. In spite of its taking a lot of convincing to get Jack to stand for election as president, he said in his inaugural speech to the membership: "I never before in my life worked so doggone hard as I did to become president of this chapter. I was just about to give up!"

That's our Jack and we love him.

Two all-important assignments fell upon the shoulders of Walter Kolish (left) and Harold Roederer, (right). Walt, as Publicity Director, and Harold as Program Printing Chairman, acted in the same capacity last year. Their success was such that they were prevailed upon to again do the honors. In other words, they "volunteered", as it is called and for which the Louisville Chapter is renowned.

PLANTATION HARMONIES

A DAY IN DIXIE

"A day in Dixie" . . . that wonderful, beautiful place called Dixie, where life is tranquil and pleasurable, where servants are "help" and employers are "my folks", where fried chicken and candied yams abound, where levees, steamboats, cotton bales, mammies and hoop skirts all point to a magnificent era, where . . . well, just where home is home and above all home is heaven on earth when you're in "My Dixie".

Our day in Dixie is a party day when every plantation is represented by belles, beaux and darkies. Guests begin to arrive early in the morning and stay 'til late in the afternoon. Darkies arise at dawn to prepare the feast. The white folks go down to the levee to see the steamboat come in.

The ladies lie down after dinner and the men folk talk politics. And everybody eats heartily, dances merrily and has a wonderful time.

We have patterned our show to an extent after these party days. Our type of harmony fits exceedingly well this period and its music. The songs that have been written about Dixieland would stretch end to end across the Mason Dixon line.

We are duly proud of our Louisville Chorus and our two young quartets, and we hope you will enjoy their appearances, and of course, those of our guest quartets.

So on with the show . . . let's be "shuffling along" to DIXIE and we hope you'll like it.

Properly directed publicity plays such an important part in the success of a show that the men who handle publicity must be 'on the beam'. No means can be overlooked. Seated, left to right, are Chairman Walt Kolish, George Edwards and Peter Hacks. Standing are C. B. "Matt" Matthews and C. A. "Chick" Moore. Through the efforts of this committee, our show was 'plugged' on the radio, in the newspapers and extensively on television. Post cards and large posters which Walt and his boys provided augmented an already well-planned publicity campaign.

For a two-month period preceding the presentation of our show, many meetings of which all ad salesmen attend are held. Identified as the Program Selling Team, this group is indispensable. "In a huddle" are the Special Events Chairman and the Chorus Director. These two men find it definitely advantageous to work in harmony. Ray Marrillia (left) as Special Events Chairman is our contact man and makes all arrangements for appearances of our chorus and quartets that occur between Annual Fall Shows. Director Harmon (right) selects or approves the songs which will constitute the program. They are the men who "keep us singing" throughout the year.

Monday nights at the rehearsal hall are plain down-to-brass-tacks shirtsleeve workouts, particularly when Show Time approaches. Chorus Director, J. Bertram Harmon (standing) is shown as he runs over the music with the lead section. Bert's task is tremendous as can well be imagined considering the fact that less than one-fourth of the chorus is pictured. Mr. Harmon prides himself on having the assistance of Tom Lee (extreme right, background) who picks out the various parts for the voice sections on the piano.

Many hours and considerable hard work could be saved by contracting to have the scenery built, but that would deprive the Scenery Building and Painting Committee of the 'kick' they get from designing original and appropriate scenery. Guided by Stage Manager, Leon Haydon (standing in center) and Ken Schneider, Property Manager, (not shown), a staff of volunteers worked many evenings and Saturdays constructing every bit of the scenery for this show. Did they do a good job? The proof is before your eyes.

CARL JONES

It is quite fitting that Carl Jones should have a prominent spot in our Fall Show this year. Although he lives and works in Terre Haute, Indiana, he is a long-time member of the Louisville Chapter. A member of the original Minor Chords, Carl recently organized a new quartet to compete in the Indiana-Kentucky District Quartet Contest. Complying with International rules, he picked a new name and changed the men in his quartet. They won the contest as 3 Kids and a Goat. Carl was chorus director of the Elks Chanters when they joined the Terre Haute Chapter in a body. He continued as chorus director of the combined group. He is an International Board member and Chairman of the Chorus Committee and also a member of the International Panel of judges.

S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. AT KOSAIR CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S PICNIC

It was worth much more than the time and effort spent by Barber Shoppers at the Kosair Crippled Children's Picnic last July to see the happy faces of these sick children while they watched and listened as Bert Harmon, director, lead the chorus in several songs. In spite of the many attractions on all sides a large adult audience also gathered around to enjoy the music. Louisville Barber Shoppers give a lot of their time and talent to charity as can be seen from the partial account in the article accompanying this picture.

BARBER SHOPPERS LOVE TO SING

(For Charity and Themselves)

Barber Shoppers love to sing. They need no urging. All they require is the opportunity. Our appearances are not confined to just this Annual Fall Show. That would hardly suffice. Very few weeks pass but what we are called upon to participate in some civic affair or perform at functions where some charity is to be benefited. Our chorus and our quartets are indeed kept busy. Performances, not in the order of occurrence, during the past year included participation in the Cancer Fund T-V Show, Bowler's Polio Show, two full shows at Fort Knox Service Clubs, a complete show at Carrollton, Ky. for the Kiwanis Under-Privileged Children Drive, the annual picnic for the benefit of the Kentucky Federation of the Blind, several appearances at Nichol's (V. A.) Hospital in the wards as well as in the auditorium, and at the Annual Kosair Crippled Children's Picnic.

In addition to singing for the patients and those who made up the large audience at the Kosair Picnic, members of the Louisville Chapter operated a booth. Sixty members contributed some five hundred man-hours during the three-day festival and realized a net profit of $1,937 for the hospital.

The contagious desire burning within the hearts of all Barber Shoppers is so apparent that civic groups and luncheon clubs call upon us to provide entertainment for many occasions. We welcome their solicitations. To us, it provides more opportunities to spread the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. concept that — "Singing People Are A Happy People".

The fact that you harmony devotees keep coming back to witness our show leads us to believe that we and you are in accord in an effort to "Keep America Singing".
